Bang Design

Organic in its inspiration, visually this lamp design is reminiscent of many natural forms; a flower, a buzzing firefly, or perhaps an onion...

The Onion Series of lamps looks to replicate the random charm of nature through a combination multi-layered wood veneer hoops/strips.

The final creation is a collection of "veneer hoops" of different diameters and widths that are held together with a central metal rod. The possibilities are numerous with variations in hoop sizes and colour combinations coming together to create ceiling, floor and wall options.
