TABLET FOR EXECUTIVE OFFICES

When corporate image is imperative, Tablet's exquisite veneer, finish, and hardware and other options enhance business luxury with inspired solutions for top-level executives.

DISTINCT IMPRESSION. The tradition and leadership that wood has always conveyed is hard to ignore, but leather is equally impressive. That's why Geiger is offering a new twist: full grain leather wrapped tops and end panels. Combine these with luminous shelving and elegant modesty panels, and Tablet creates executive office environments that project confidence, success and vision.

Simply slide the run-off desk to the other end for a serene and inviting meeting area. It's luxury of space, and it's just as important as furniture.

GEIGER KNOWS HOW TO FINISH.

MOTION. One of the most striking features of the Tablet system is the inline skate wheels that move it around. This is not just for the novelty factor, however. Inline skate wheels are soft and gentle on any flooring, and have excellent bearings, so they work extremely well with frequently moved pieces. More important are the innovative “co-planer” surfaces, which allow one surface to travel next to another rather than over it. Because neither runs below, no underneath storage is lost. But not only does co-planning preserve workspace; it also offers a more streamlined look.

LIGHT. Never a dull moment is putting it mildly. Whether it flows through practically transparent table legs or the delicate fabric of a modesty panel, or is reflected in a metallic finish, light is the essence of Tablet. Even the overhead diffuser boxes, which can be customized with a wide selection of rice paper, add to the dramatic effect. Permeating the whole space, light goes way beyond the functional to create a luminous, even sensory ambience.

TEXTURE. Wood is a classic choice, but Tablet’s dazzle is in the details. That is why tops and end panels come in an assortment of other materials—Formcoat, leather, acrylics, upholstery—to contrast or complement. And as for modesty panels, don’t be shy. With sheer, embossed, even pleated fabrics to choose from, breaking the rules may be unavoidable. Go ahead. Your clients will thank you for it later.

FORM. Pulls with neon accents, curvilinear organizer boxes, tool rails, acrylic end panels and glass shelves that seem to float are just some of the designs that contribute to the vitality and excitement of the Tablet system. It is a clean, pure look that offers just enough aesthetic diversity to be interesting.
