SHARE IDEAS. ENGAGE PEOPLE. ALL AT YOUR FINGERTIPS.

When people can come together and easily share ideas, great things can happen. Unfortunately, the workplace and tools can often be obstacles to these kinds of great connections.

ēno[®] interactive whiteboard by PolyVision can help. It's three boards in one — an interactive board, a high-performance dry erase board and a magnetic surface. Groups can use its Bluetooth[®]-enabled stylus to easily share, save and distribute meeting content. And, unlike other interactive boards, this board doesn't require special training or complicated installation to get up and running.

Whether you're creating great collaborative spaces or advanced learning spaces, ēno interactive whiteboards will help make sharing simple.

Meeting spaces typically support leader-led presentations, where content is individually controlled. Lack of participation leaves participants easily distracted.

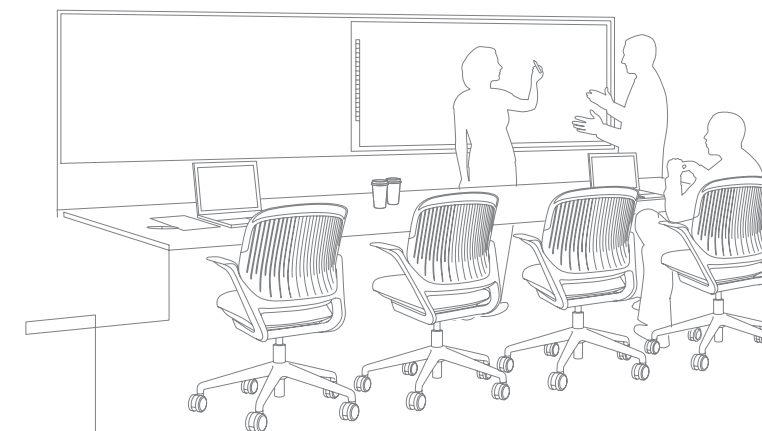

88% of workers report* the importance of team spaces to display work. Yet more than a third state that the need isn't being met.

*Steelcase Survey Data 2010

Workplaces commonly fail to have the right tools to support meeting facilitation; display size of text and content is uncontrollable, sharing and distribution of captured meeting information is time consuming and inefficient.

WRITE.
PROJECT.
ANNOTATE.
DISTRIBUTE.

Project your computer desktop onto a virtually indestructible ceramicsteel™ surface and navigate through documents, presentations and websites. Jot notes in digital ink. In one simple click, you can save all your interactive notes to post, print or email.

Ideal for meetings or training, ēno allows you to navigate laptop and presentation content directly from an interactive whiteboard — all without cords, cables or complicated installation.

- Easy, flexible presentations.
- Multiple users.
- Works virtually anywhere.
- Worry-free connection.
- Capture and distribute.

SHARE.
LOCALLY.
GLOBALLY.

Distributed teams (teams spread out over long distances) can also benefit from eno when paired with media:scape and HD videoconferencing. This combination lets participants share their digital and analog information as though they were sitting in the same room together.

media:scape® with HD videoconferencing and eno help distributed teams share their digital content.

MEETING SET UP TIME TAKES NO TIME.

Both ēno and ēno click are as easy to install as they are to use. Like a traditional whiteboard, ēno mounts to any wall. Utilizing magnetic-mounting hardware, ēno click simply attaches to any ceramicsteel chalkboard, whiteboard or steel surface, allowing you to spontaneously turn any space into collaborative space.

ēno click offers the same features, benefits and environmental certifications of the ēno interactive whiteboard, as well as being able to attach to any magnetic surface. All with no tools required to get started.

ēno features

Lowest cost of ownership. ēno is an interactive board and whiteboard in one. There's no need for complex connections or expensive installation.

Simplest installation. ēno mounts to the wall just like a traditional whiteboard.

Accommodates any floorplan. Finding meeting space is easy. ēno installs to virtually any wall.

Best environmental solution. Made from all recyclable materials, ēno is the only MBDC Cradle to Cradle® certified interactive whiteboard. It also contributes to LEED® certification.

Dry-erase today, and forever. Industry-leading e3 environmental ceramicsteel provides an exceptionally smooth and durable surface for dry-erase notes.

Worry-free connection. With a Bluetooth-enabled stylus, multiple points of failure are a thing of the past.

Capture and distribute. Your entire session can be saved or sent with a single click.

Better presentations. Project a presentation on the best dry-erase surface on the market. Magnetically hang printed pieces.

Multiple users. Interactive whiteboards enable up to three users to use the board at once. ēno is also web conference capable.

Surface technology. A pattern of tiny black dots in the board, virtually invisible to the naked eye, indicates the exact position of the ēno stylus. The whiteboard, stylus, and computer communicate via Bluetooth to make ēno a fully functional interactive whiteboard.

Forever Warranty
Surface warranted forever, trim 10 years, stylus 2 years.

ēno click features

Meetings on the fly. All you need is a steel surface for this interactive whiteboard to magnetically click into place.

Maintenance-free. With all the technical components consolidated into a revolutionary Bluetooth-enabled stylus, ēno click truly frees you up.

Easiest installation. The fastest of any interactive whiteboard in the world.

Get up and running. Install immediately, instead of having to schedule and wait for contractors.

Magnetic mounts. No hardware or tools required.

Damage and cleanup-free. Mounts cleanly to any existing ceramicsteel whiteboard or chalkboard.

Multiple users. Interactive whiteboards enable up to three users to use the board at once.

Any combination. Two ēno interactive whiteboards and one ēno click (or any other combination), means even more meeting collaboration.

Environmentally friendly. Adheres to stringent environmental certifications and does not draw from power outlets.

Lowest cost of ownership. ēno click is an interactive board and whiteboard in one. There's no need for complex connections or expensive installation.
