

TENEO STORAGE FURNITURE

INVITING PEOPLE TO CONNECT AND ENGAGE

Designers Ayse Birsal and Bibi Seck say that “the starting point of Teneo was challenging the storage archetype.” Their challenge resulted in an innovative, systemic approach that brings people and space together in ways that traditional storage products can’t.

Instead of enclosed metal boxes, Teneo products are designed around three basic elements—structure, utility, and cladding—that can be assembled in different combinations to create a diverse array of products. Carts and cabinets. Towers and lecterns. Islands and easels. Surfaces and presentation units and wall units.

Since all products share the same design elements, they have a consistent look that helps to unify a space. Clean and trim, Teneo products are meant to be seen from every angle in the conference rooms, meeting areas, project spaces, and lounges where people gather to put their minds together.

Materials

Teneo is a great canvas for color and can be customized to express the character you want, from sophisticated and quiet to bold and spirited, as well as many expressions in between. Its timeless selection of neutrals coordinates with Herman Miller systems and other storage. Different textures and gloss levels create layering, depth, and richness.
