ARDEX AF 207 - Approved for Installation Over OSB

We are pleased to report that, in addition to plywood, OSB is an approved substrate for the application of ARDEX AF 207.

The ARDEX AF 207 technical brochure is in the process of being updated to reflect this change.

Should you have any questions on this information, or if we can be of further assistance, please contact the Technical Service Department here at our Home Office in Pittsburgh.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Seth Pevarnik", is positioned above the printed name and title.
