As the modern workplace evolves, casegoods are an essential element in creating a distinctive, high performance office. With Zip, Creative Wood offers a line of versatile, price-competitive casegoods furniture designed for application across the office landscape from the reception area to a shared workspace to the private executive office. Zip is comprised of multi-purpose components that offer an array of design options in order to meet diverse planning needs and budget requirements. As the name suggests, Zip is built around simplicity, efficiency and ease of installation. A choice of finishes allows for classic and contemporary looks attuned to the architectural and cultural context. Zip also coordinates with Creative Wood Tables.

A simple set of elements creates a classic office configuration that includes a desk with full modesty panel, lateral files and overhead cabinets. The clean, uncluttered lines and rich, dark finish project an image of refinement and quality.

Zip pulls are standard with all storage modules in a variety of sizes and two finishes – brushed and anodized aluminum.

The Zip Work Bench provides the necessary details of both the open and private office setting. Integrated power and video Interact units provide the necessary individual requirements for the group desk, with concealed wire management capabilities. Low Iron Etched glass panels create a subtle level of divided space, while the utilitarian mobile combination storage pedestal creates another outlet for shared group work.

Zip components create an elegant and productive work space that combines the beauty and warmth of a wood finish with a sophisticated asymmetrical design. The components also address a variety of functional needs – integrated support for technology, a wardrobe for personal storage and a desk platform that allows for individual focus work as well as communal interaction. The use of white lacquer accents with the Fumed Eucalyptus veneer provides an elegant material statement.

Zip base options include this open metal support frame in a variety of finishes.

This Zip office is ideal for mobile workers who visit the office from time to time. Side car storage, work surface and open end base provides an affordable, functional and attractive solution for this type of workspace.

Providing structure, storage and layered surfaces, Zip runoff desks and side car casegoods combine to create a complete, space-efficient office that supports both focused work and one-on-one meetings with colleagues.

Zip integrates with building architecture to provide fully integrated and visually consistent structure and work surface surround, as well as ample closed storage that includes a lateral file and cabinet.

Open shelving mounted to the wall element provides quick access to notebooks, active documents and personal work tools.

An elegant Zip work wall provides lateral files, open shelves for display or quick access to documents and work tools, plus support for advanced technology including a video-conferencing display – an essential component in today's collaborative work environment. A Creative Wood freestanding table completes this high-performance office.

This metal “Y” base is available in a variety of styles, sizes, and finishes – Powdercoat, Satin and Polished Chrome.
