Introducing Artemis – sleek and lightly scaled for smaller private office footprints, with the richness and presence of hand-made executive office furniture. Every piece is made to order, and every office is made together as a complete suite - providing an elegant, refined consistency of woods and finishes. Individually selected veneers and exquisite craftsmanship are combined with sophisticated modernity, and exceptional value.

Storage components can be both wall hung, and freestanding. An array of top shapes are available to suit any application - including corner desks (opposite) and worksurfaces that enable a front-facing work position. Our automated custom capability means virtually any size, shape, or configuration can be specified - and exact sizes can be ordered right out of the price guide, simply by using the price for the next size up. A range of modular, non-handed components provide flexibility for change.

Finish - Wheat Maple

Finish - Natural Walnut

Finish - Light Cherry, Designer White Laminate

Krug's major environmental commitment is evident with Artemis: optional air quality certification and Forest Stewardship Council® certified woods, along with extensive use of recycled and recyclable materials make Artemis a valuable contributor on LEED projects, and a more sustainable choice. Krug's proprietary Enduraguard finish is an industry leader in durability, providing exceptional protection from the damage that can occur in everyday use.

Artemis offers tremendous selection: four standard wood species and 24 standard wood finishes (along with custom stains), Palette painted finishes, wood and plastic laminate tops (with both wood and Polymer edges), four drawer pull styles (in two finish options), three standard edge profiles, and much more. Efficient and attractive connectivity and cable management complete this forward thinking office solution.
