A distinctively arched back with a soft roll at its apex, and sloping, rolled arms that are invitingly comfortable: these elements join to form Cello. Fabrics and leathers cut by hand, double-needle stitched seams, and the unerring eye of our highly skilled upholsterers create soft seating that is stylish and sophisticated. Cello's beveled rails and tapered legs are made from the finest solid Maple hardwoods, finished in a range of stains or in a clear varnish. Hidden inside is a coiled spring suspension system, combined with multiple densities of foam, that provide incomparable comfort. Krug offers an extensive selection of our in-stock fabrics and leathers, and the option to specify any other upholstery cover. Fixed cushions are standard on Cello.
