

The Completion of A Lost Harvest

Antique River Logs® is a story of Old Growth Forest timbers resting on the river bottoms, preserved by deep, cold water and a lack of oxygen and light. Almost two centuries have passed since they broke loose from their log-rafts and sank, to become a marriage of water, wood and minerals.

This lamp shade is hand crafted and hand oiled in the USA using only centuries-old wood from Antique River Logs®. This letter certifies that the wood in this lampshade originated from Old Growth Forest timbers harvested during the great logging booms of the late 18th and 19th centuries and was reclaimed from the Rivers of Kentucky.

Thank You for choosing to participate in sustainable living by selecting a product that supports minimizing our collective environmental footprint and celebrates history. We appreciate the opportunity to create beautiful pieces that are ambassadors for integrating art and conservation.

Sincerely,

The Antique River Logs Team
