

Wilkhahn

Stand-up

Stand-up – a stylish and fun mover ...

Placed in relaxed groups, nobody can resist lingering on these colourful, cheerful and eye-catching objects. They're ideal for spontaneous meet-ups and come with health-boosting benefits too. Perched on diagonally, these one-legged sitting-standing hybrids turn into dynamic three-legged ones that allow hips to move and thoughts to take flight. Joints are put to work and muscles strengthened. They also invite interaction. Even from an up to 50° angle, after a gentle push they swing back and right themselves again. In other words, this hip companion is a fun approach to the serious side of (working) life.

... for lobbies, workshops or studios ...

It resembles an ice cream cone fully covered in three-dimensional fabric. This ensures a highly contemporary appeal and muffles noise as well. The hollow body and lid are made of expanded polypropylene, the damping cylinder and steel weight at the bottom ensure it bounces back like a roly-poly toy. The tapered base is made of black, anti-slip plastic. Stand-up weighs just 4.5 kilos with a strap to take it from room to room, or perhaps for a spell al fresco ...

... with obvious dynamic benefits.

Apart from the playful aspect, its tilted stance when not in use underscores one of its key features. It shows that it's a dynamic, flexible support and not a stable, static stool.

Design:
Thorsten Franck

eCenter

A great ice-breaker for any group – Stand-up puts a smile on any face, encouraging a greater range of motion in a fun way.

50666002-SR 10.2014

www.wilkhahn.com