5-in-1 Ping Pong Conference Table

The #NETworking Conference Table is Formaspace Office's answer to the changing function of the conference room and evolution of workplace culture. Furniture doesn't always have to operate for a singular purpose; it can function for many purposes. With the #NETworking table (that's a silent hashtag), we're serving up a multifunctional piece that changes from a sitting conference table, to two independently height adjustable collaboration tables, to a standing height conference table into a regulation 5' x 9' ping pong table. While promoting wellness, this product combines work and play. End users gather around the table for an intense table tennis playoff match between in-house rivals, break out into small group collaboration mode with co-workers, or deliver their latest pitch while sitting or standing. The A&D community has asked for truly differentiated, authentic, and unique furnishings. As you may have heard from NeoCon, there's a #NETworking revolution happening, only here at Formaspace Office!
