Community offers a variety of tables for a variety of purposes; including training, multi-purpose, lounge & science. A table is comprised of an open, flat surface supported by a base or legs. Tables may be used to hold articles such as food or papers at a convenient or comfortable height when sitting so they are often used in conjunction with chairs or stools. Sometimes tables are also used while standing.

Natural Wood Finishes

Every tree has unique and defining characteristics, similar to fingerprints. These characteristics include differences in color, grain configurations and texture. When specifying natural or light finishes, these markings are not masked and are easily detected. With this in mind, we hope you enjoy and appreciate the beauty of each tree's fingerprints.
