

Original Foundry Maple: Batch #30021

Case Tractor Factory

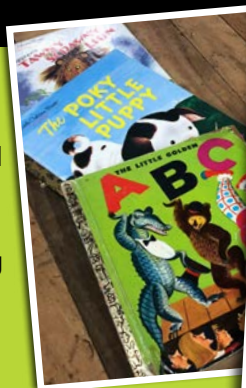

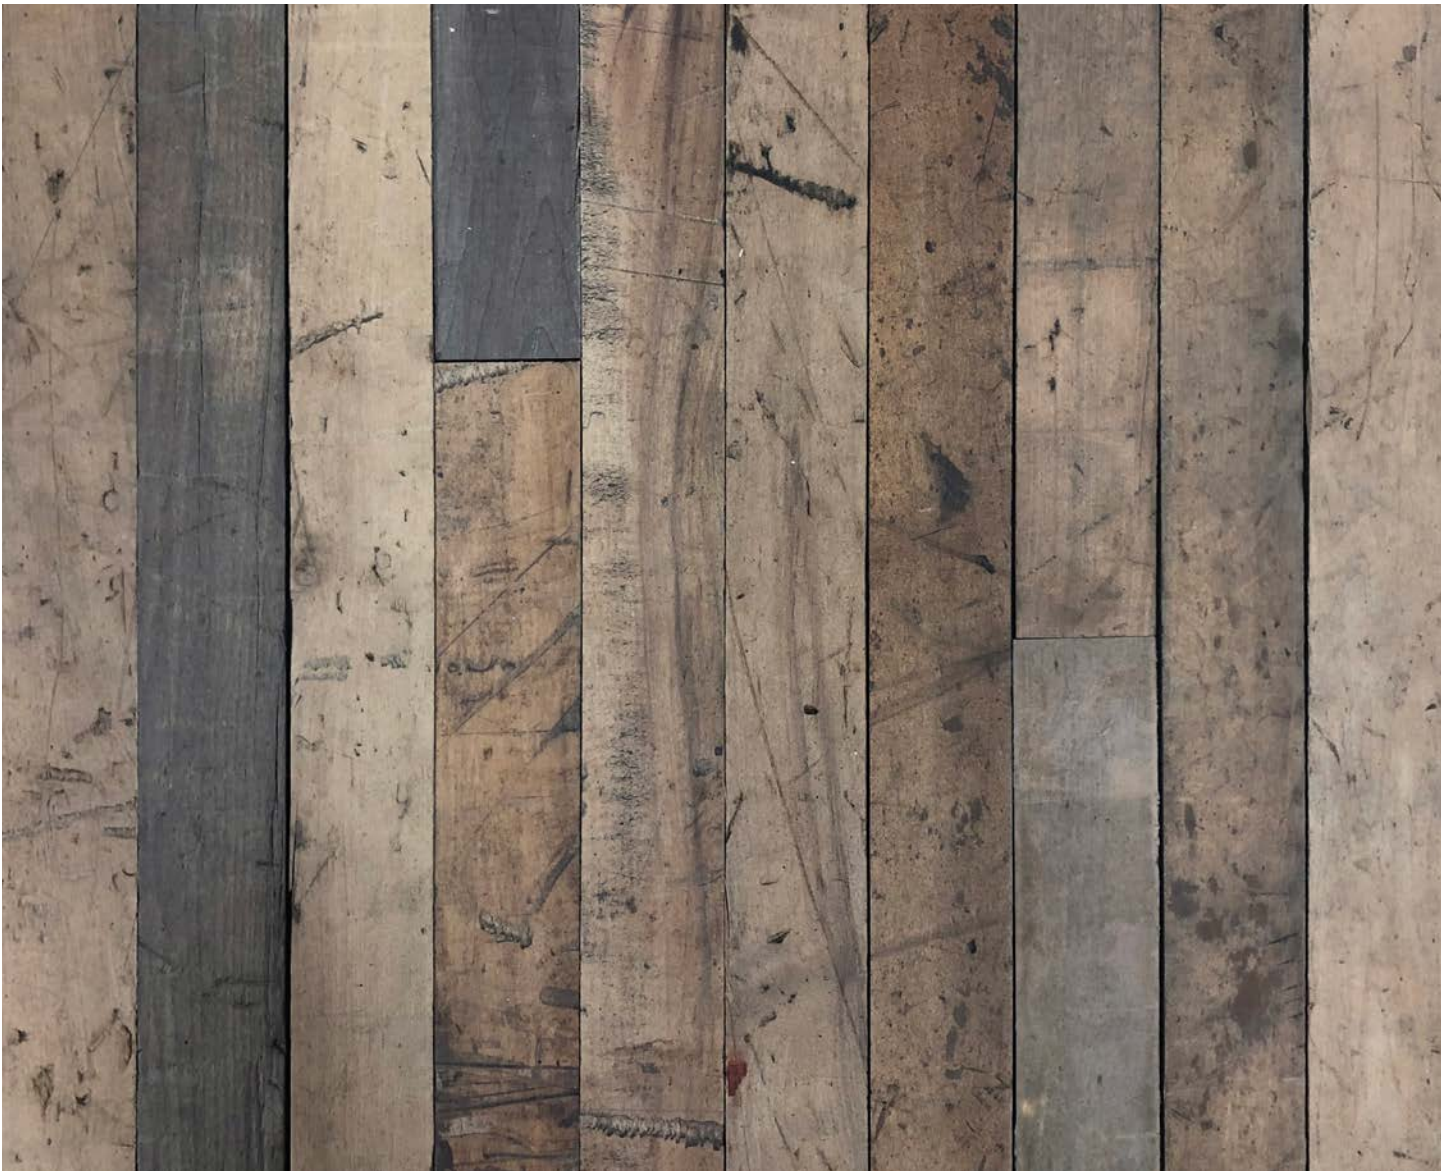

Original Foundry Maple is one of our Single-Origin Batch products. In contrast to our line of Standard Products which blend material from multiple sources to ensure a look that is consistent and repeatable from order to order, our Single-Origin Batches can be traced to one specific source and are finite in quantity. These products have a distinct look and a unique story to tell.

This batch of hardy Maple floor was underfoot for a century of manufacturing at Case Plow Works in Wisconsin. Material within this batch varies in color from light tan to dark brown and may include occasional paint, old machine oil stains, and a range of wear marks. A great choice for commercial applications, this floor's appearance adds instant and authentic industrial character to any environment.

Source Location: Racine, Wisconsin

These 1909 buildings were initially used to manufacture and warehouse Case tractors made by JI Case & Company. After Case relocated in the 1950's to a larger space outside of town, the property was taken over by Western Publishing who produced the Little Golden Books. Most recently, the building on Marquette St. was the site of Racine's Factory of Fear Halloween attraction. From farming, to children's books, to Halloween fun, these reclaimed maple floors' history has a story fit for everyone.

Original Foundry Maple: Batch #30021 Case Tractor Factory—Racine, Wisconsin

Pricing Per Volume (unfinished)

$7.45–$10.45/sf

Solid Dimensions:

- Thickness: 3/4"
- Width: 2 1/8" or 2 3/8" face widths
- Length: 12" to 10'

Milling:

- Original Tongue & Groove Square Edge (TGSQE)
Some areas of damage may be included.

Surface:

- Original surface patina with a light nylon brushing

Certifications:

- FSC Recycled 100% (SCS-COC-003998)
- mindful MATERIAL
- LEED point eligible