A study in contrasts, a marvel of comfort

Mulholland Lounge Seating
Designed by Brian K. Graham

Mulholland lounge seating is a study in contrasts, much as the varying scenes one encounters on the twisting Mulholland Drive in Los Angeles. The chair's thick and thin, straight and curved, hard and soft elements are clearly articulated yet harmonize in an engaging way that delights both the eye and the body. The overall scale of the design offers generous proportions and elegant materials add intrigue, nonetheless the look is spare and the detailing minimal.

Fabrics and leathers receive prominent display on the upholstered back version of the lounge chair

The open-back option highlights the chair's harmony of varied elements and elegant materials

Generous seat proportions, rich upholstery, and a gently curved wood back yield marvelous comfort
