Donna 7 Pendant

Designed by Stina Sandwall and Nina Jobs, the Donna 7 pendant reads as if it is made from ceramic but it is actually made of ribbed aluminum that comes in four elemental colors called blush, linen, autumn leaves and black ink. Inspired by the flowing elegance of textiles in fashion, these pendants read as surprisingly velvety considering the material from which they are fashioned. "We were inspired by the challenge to transform a hard material into a soft feeling," note the designers. Compact enough to hang in clusters, the architectonic fixture would also look wonderful hung in rows above a bar, a kitchen island or a dining room table.
