We are a women-owned business.

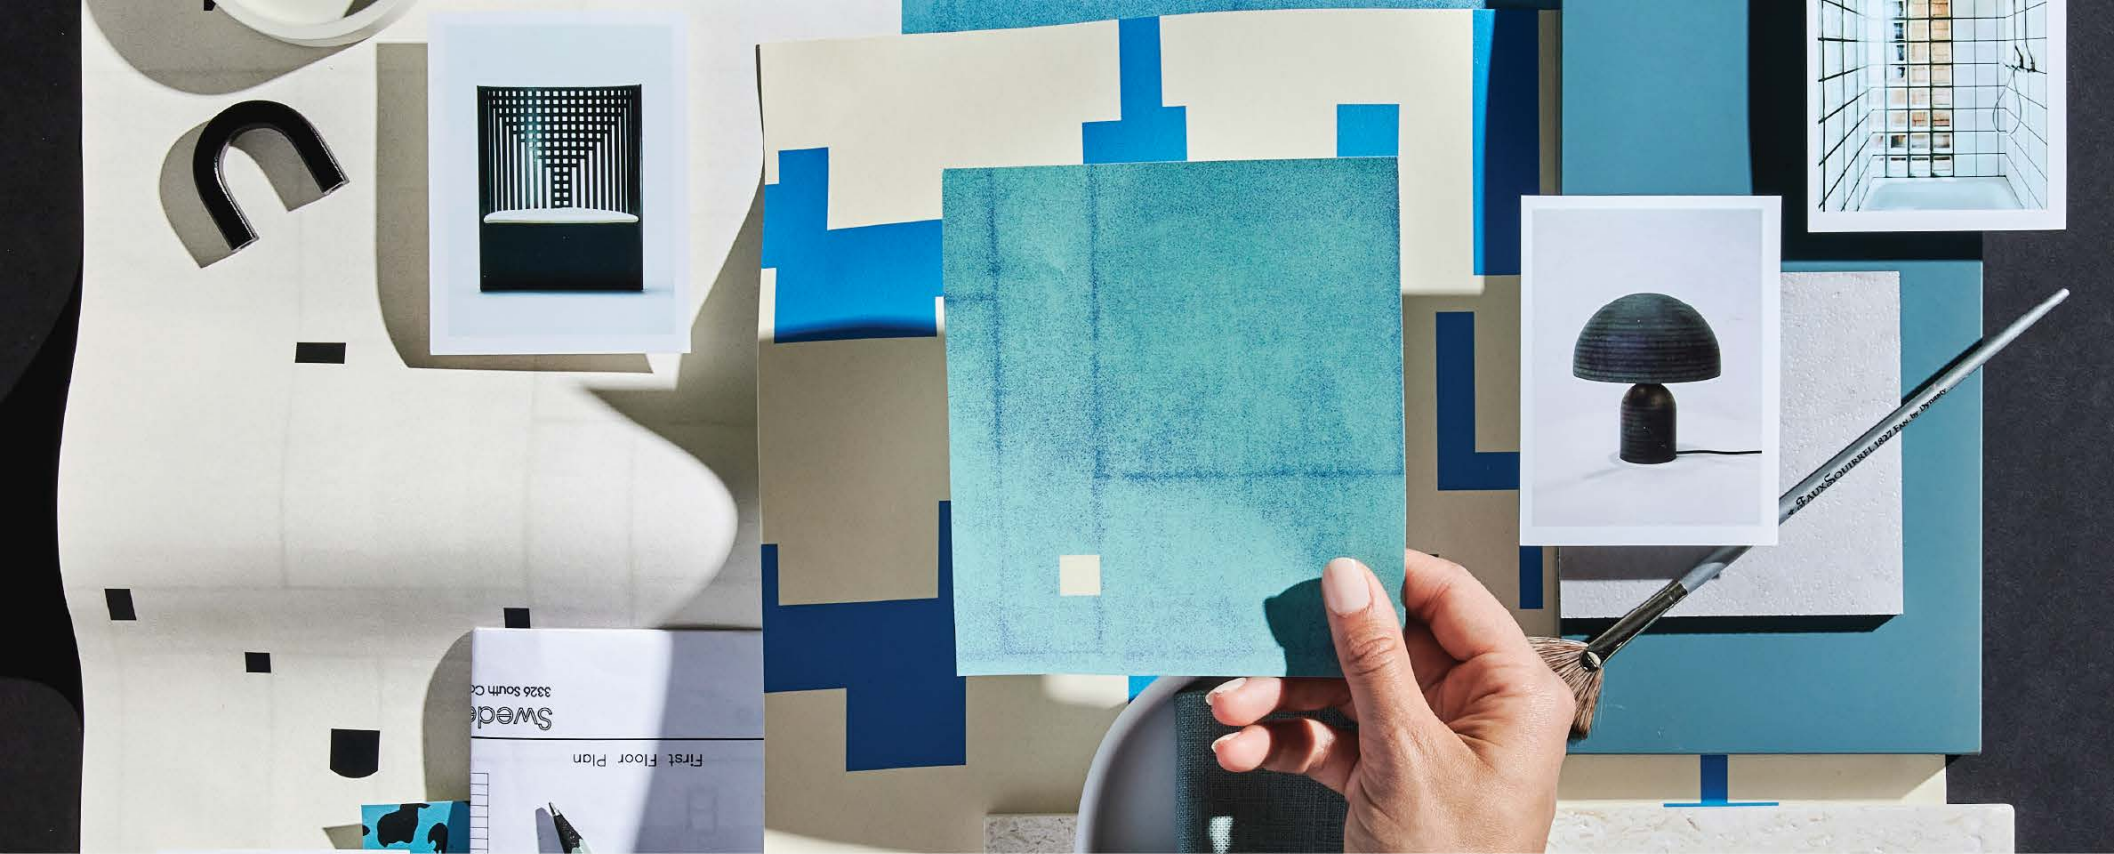

Born from our founder, Bree Scott, drop it MODERN is a woman-owned business that seeks to fill life's sacred spaces with unexpected joy, beauty, and heart. We strive to empower avant-garde designers with our refreshing color palettes and artful wallpaper prints.

drop it MODERN is based in Portland, Oregon. Our team prints every project to order for our customers, who work on residential, hospitality, and commercial projects around the world.

PASSIONATE ABOUT BRINGING DREAMS TO LIFE.

Bree creates fresh new prints that are released monthly, drawing inspiration from childhood memories and modern architecture. Her imagination is ignited by travel and jumps from the electricity of the 1980s to the sweeping landscapes of her most recent adventures.

Our catalog of iconic designs and signature colors have appeared in the pages of Architectural Digest, Elle Decor, and Domino magazines, adorned the walls of premiere hotels, and been the backdrop of inspiration at some of the biggest tech and Fortune 100 companies.
