

Etarran®

Kimball®

Designed by Jay Henriott
Kimball International Industrial Designer

“Created with a modular kit of parts, Etarran can be arranged in thousands of configurations with the ability to turn corners and change heights. Its design is crisp, refined, and timeless.”

Through extensive research with our dealer and design partners, we heard the need for a panel system that is easy to specify and install, and is available at a competitive price point. From single workstations and touch down areas to multiperson hubs for collaboration or focus, Etarran’s flexibility and exceptional portfolio make it easy to create a space for any situation.
