Meet Toob

Toob holds its own by challenging what we've come to expect from a lounge collection. Anchored by strong geometric elements and a thin, airy structure, the seat and arms are intended to feel like they're floating, held together only by a thin metal line. The lightness and airiness are grounded by the presence of strong, angular upholstered pieces, which create tension to produce a unique silhouette.

FEATURES

The Toob lounge chair's structure is thin and airy, intended to feel like the chair is floating, held together only by a slight metal line.

TOOB

The cylindrical armrests of the chair and the backrest of the stool are the only curved elements present within the design, which contrast the angular frame and square seat cushions.

FEATURES

TOOB

The lightness of the Toob legs is contrasted with strong, angular, upholstered padded elements. This creates tension both within and between each Toob product, resulting in unique silhouettes.
