Redefine modern with Soltice

Metal.

With superior attention to detail, award-winning designer Paul James has taken the incomparable durability of steel and refined it to an art form in Soltíce Metal.

"My vision with Soltíce Metal was to take the established design of classic Soltíce, with its beautiful, inviting curves, and give it a fresh form. Its modern silhouette offers a stunning simplicity and creates a clean and contemporary aesthetic suitable for all environments."

Strong yet surprisingly lightweight, Soltice Metal marries alluring mid-century style with modern versatility and enduring appeal. Its thin visual profiles and lightness of scale provide a fresh perspective to metal-frame designs.

Minimalistic in its design approach, Soltice Metal maximizes purposeful form and function, resulting in a supportive solution for a variety of high-performance environments.

The comprehensive collection elegantly enhances space with its slim scale and allows for true versatility in design application and specification.
