END CUT

Inspired by end-cut lumber, the End Cut Mosaic Collection highlights the beauty of wood grain. In woodworking, end cut refers to a cut surface that shows a tree's growth rings. End Cut Mosaic is a square porcelain with a veined surface that resembles the exposed end of freshly cut lumber. Unlike traditional porcelain tiles that repeat the same surface pattern, End Cut's four-inch square units display amazing variation in their patterns and knots. Available in 11-3/4" x 11-3/4" x 3/8" porcelain mosaic sheets in three colors: Oak, Walnut, and Wenge.

[2] Alternate Grouts: Ardex DG 1 – One Component Grout or Ardex WA Epoxy

Tech Notes: Product MUST be installed in accordance with current TCNA Handbook tile methods. Dry laying of this product is recommended. Plan your layout accordingly. Expect slight edge chipping on any cut porcelain. For straight cuts on a tile wet saw, clear plastic face tape can be applied to keep the mosaic pieces aligned while cutting. Applying a grout release prior to grouting is recommended.
